Specializing in Foreclosure Prevention

Dear Neighbor.....

I am contacting you as I have a specialization in, and passion for assisting folks who are facing foreclosure and helping them understand their options for saving their home. I also help homeowners who are "upside-down" in their mortgage, owing more than their home is worth. In those cases, I negotiate with the lenders on their behalf to accept less than the full mortgage balance, thus saving or repairing the homeowner's credit. It is imperative that individuals facing foreclosure are aware of their options, the time lines, and the tools to save their home and their credit.

These are scary financial times for many. Often, those in crisis reach out to their churches for assistance and comfort, and yet... many pastors who would like to help, may not be aware of the resources. For this reason, I would like to offer your congregation and community, a FREE Foreclosure Prevention seminar. This is available to anyone; whether they currently face such a concern, or are wondering what might happen in the event of a personal financial downturn. This also offers your church an outreach opportunity in your neighborhood.

The seminar information is presented in a comfortable, safe and confidential manner, so anyone in attendance will not feel embarrassed or singled out. In fact, I share some of my personal financial tough times, so that all in attendance can see that it can happen to anyone.

I invite you to call me for more information. I am happy to schedule the seminar at a time that meets the needs of your congregation; weekdays, evenings or weekends. In a community, we reach out to uplift one another, and I would like to offer this at this time. Please visit me at my website below, and call me to talk further.

Blessings—
